

David Lovejoy, Psy.D. Director of Behavior Health, MassMutual

Education

Under Graduate: University of Massachusetts -1990 BS
Internship: Yale University School of Medicine 1996-1997 Clinical Psychology
Fellowship: Hartford Hospital & The Institute of Living 1997-1999 Neuropsychology
Medical School: Virginia Consortium Program -1997 PsyD

Faculty Appointments

Trinity College, Adjunct Professor
University of Connecticut, School of Medicine, Assistant Professor

Dr. Lovejoy practices in the area of adult and pediatric neuropsychology. His clinical practice includes individuals who suffer from neurologic, psychiatric and neurodevelopmental difficulties. Dr. Lovejoy has published and presented in areas such as concussion/mild traumatic brain injury, ADHD, dementia, learning disabilities and forensic assessment.